March/April 2017 Newsletter

Food and Wine Committee's 1950's party

The club's big shed took on a party atmosphere on March 10, when the Food and wine Committee hired out our facilities for their 1950's style party. While their numbers were down due to poor ticket sales, those who did attend really enjoyed themselves.

While some attendees came dressed in their best 1950's gear, Jeff Barbler, Matt Lonsdale and Russell Dower, donned on their black and whites as 'bartenders' to serve drinks which netted good sales for the club. Could it have been due to Jeff's hat, Matt's charisma or big Russ's beard? we'll never know, but it was fun-filled night. Thanks, boys!

Local chef, Mike Giles was assisted by a team of cooking volunteers. and Matt Lonsdale.

To add to the night's festivities, outside the shed was numerous vintage vehicles including Chris John's 1948 Chevy ute that became a favorite prop for photos.

Party organiser, Dianne Hannant said the club's facilities were second to none.

What a happy bunch! Jeff, Matt and Russ in the mood behind the Bar at the Food and Wine 1950's party.

As the band cranked up its music and dancing began, it soon became a thirsty night. So much so, local wine growers Kingsley Grove, Cranes Wines and Moffatdale Ridge, were on hand to serve their wares.

During the party, a number of attendees popped over to the Kingaroy Observatory for a special look-see, into the workings of this major tourist attraction.

During cloud breaks, they got to see the Moon, Jupiter and its moons, binary stars and Nebulae - where stars are formed, in the large powerful telescopes.
